I like the right sides color choice + geometric shapes, but the left seems less thought full. design wise.

Not my style. Looks very clip-art based work.
Artist Name:	Raoul Ghymel
WOW! Sooo beautiful! I love the purple/pink/orange tones and I can tell there is historical significance + culture that reflects Pomona well.

The images beautifully reflect a history in chronological order. It pays respect to natives &amp; I believe the color choice is lovely. It pairs well with the night life of downtown. I admire this one the most.
Artist Name:	Timothy Smith
This one reminds me of a sci-fi dystopia &amp; Star Wars. It depicts creativity &amp; the future which is such a cool contrast between Raoul's take on history &amp; Timothy's creative stride &amp; what the future brings.
Artist Name:	Hector Flores
I think too much empty space &amp; represents more of a vintage cycle guy &amp; car show vibe. classic The lettering choice for Pomona is also so simple &amp; old H's too similar to Hollywood sign.

CHOICE

Artist Name:	Timothy Smith
I really admire the unique, eye-catching art style. Pomona to me is about pushing your creativity to the max when it comes to the art scene. I'm wanting to see every wall, electrical box, anything to be seen as a canvas in colorful Pomona.

#2

CHOICE

Artist Name:	Raoul Ghymel
I really like the breakdown of the history. The colors being majority monotone is aesthetically pleasing to the eye.

#3

CHOICE

Artist Name:	Hector Flores
This is my least liked mural idea because of the art style/ concept. I feel like there's more that can be added for more complexity because of the empty space. Still beautiful!

I love the time line from Old Pomona to modern Pomona, w/ the Fox theater on there and the Goddess of Pomona.
Artist Name:	Hector Flores
While I love the Washable American and people of color representation, it feels a little odd on the nose for what Pomona is.

Shows the growth of the city, But not wider of it's people, color is great, But could Add more people of the city Pass + Present.

There's an abundance of empty space within the one side while the other is almost full, that imbalance isn't something I find complimentary of Pomona.
Artist Name:	Timothy Smith
Through the use of communal efforts and an exciting "multi-perspective" composition, this mural brings out the essence of presence, essentially bringing scenes to life.
Artist Name:	Raoul Ghysse
While compositionally sound, the history and collapse of styles can be slightly jarring as the cohesion of the piece only has purple to go on.

FOR THE DESIGN, THE LAYOUT OF IT IS GEOMETRIC LOOKING, AND I FEEL LIKE I HAVE SEEN THIS TYPE OF GRAPHIC DESIGN MANY TIMES BEFORE. THE MAGENTA COLOR IS TOO STRONG THAT I AM NOT SURE IF PEOPLE WANT TO SEE THIS EVERYDAY. IT MIGHT BE TOO DESTRUCTING.
Artist Name:	TIMOTHY SMITH
I LIKE THE SOPHISTICATION OF THIS ARTIST'S WORK, THE PERSPECTIVE LOOKS SO EXCITING! THE BLUE SPY GIVES A GREAT DEPTH, AND I THINK IT WILL FLOW VERY WELL ON THIS BRIDGE LOCATION. I THINK IT SHOWS A GOOD LANDMARKS OF POMONA IN HISTORICAL AND PRESENT WAY. I LOVE THE REALISM.
Artist Name:	HECTOR FLORES
I FEEL LIKE THIS DESIGN MIGHT BE TOO EMPTY. IT IS VERY FLAT AND I AM NOT SURE IF IT IS PORTRAYING THE CITY OF POMONA WELL. THERE IS NOT MUCH OF INFORMATION. THE DESIGN LOOKS LIKE I HAVE SEEN THIS IN LOCAL GROCERY STORES EVERYWHERE.

I love how bright and active this one is. I feel it would be fun to drive by and still be able to understand the land marks from afar. I like how it shows the city as an active place.
Artist Name:	Hector Flores
The images are too generic and are images that are already used and common. It doesn't stand out as something unique to Pomona.
Artist Name:	Raoul Ghymel
I feel the purple would be too dark to see defiently at night. A lot of the images are too cropped to read or understand, I think people would drive by and not even notice it.

The design is bold but very generic, looks more like a postcard or packaging. The floral elements are nice but I don't see a lot of historic buildings or contemporary Pomona represented. Maybe better as a t-shirt or postcard?
Artist Name:	Timothy Smith
I love the flowing perspectives & realism here. By far my favorite with all kinds of people, Pomona landmarks, history & modern scenes shown. Love the diversity, color & realistic imagery. More artistic layout than the others.
Artist Name:	Raoul Ghymel
Lovely illustration but a little boring. Looks like any "old California city." Not a lot Pomona specific landmarks shown & fails to include the contemporary Pomona. Looks like advertising & not a big fan of the all purple color scheme.

Very well versed in the different aspects of Pomona. From the music, the oranges, the symbolism, and people. It blends the past effectively. Even the art styles feel like Pomona. Fantastic!
Artist Name:	Timothy Smith
Probably my favorite as far as color goes. A bit whacky and absurdist, but that kind of works for the city given there are so many artists here that may relate.
Artist Name:	Hector Flores
Much simpler looking, in a good way. The fewer focal points tend to stand out more. However, the double-edged sword here might be that there's much less to describe the city than the others. Might make it seem more monolithic than Pomona, may actually be given the diversity of the city.

Really capture the essence of the people and history!

The artist rendition of the train and native American reminds of the history of western genre of film and the sensitive nature of wild west vs. native narrative. I would suggest a re-evaluation of the piece to be more sensitive to native American perspective to be more inclusive.
