WHEREAS, the applicant, Tim Law, has submitted an application for a Variance (VAR 6759-2017) to allow an increase in dwelling unit density on a property located at 1028 W. Fernleaf Ave.;

WHEREAS, the subject property is currently located within the R-2-S (Low Density Multiple Family Residential with Supplemental Overlay) zoning district;

WHEREAS, the subject site is designated as an Residential Neighborhood place type in the City's General Plan;

WHEREAS, the applicant has concurrently submitted Conditional Use Permit (CUP 4280-2016) to allow the development of two attached single-family residential units;

WHEREAS, Section .560 of the Pomona Zoning Ordinance establishes criteria for approval of a Variance;

WHEREAS, the Planning Commission of the City of Pomona has, after giving notice thereof as required by law, held a public hearing on June 14, 2017 concerning Variance (VAR 6759-2017); and

WHEREAS, the Planning Commission has carefully considered all pertinent testimony and the staff report offered in the case as presented at the public hearing.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT HEREBY RESOLVED by the Planning Commission of the City of Pomona, California, as follows:

SECTION 1. The Planning Commission exercising independent judgment finds that the proposed project will not have a significant effect on the environment. Pursuant to the Guidelines for Implementation of the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA), the project is categorically exempt under Section 15332 of the California Public Resources Code, which exempts in-fill developments located in urbanized settings. The Planning Commission finds that the project meets the following criteria listed in the exemption: 1) the proposed project is consistent with the General Plan and Zoning Ordinance of the City; 2) the parcel is smaller than five acres; 3) the project site has no value as habitat for endangered, rare or threatened species; 4) the project will not have significant effects upon the environment; and 5) the site can adequately be served by utilities and public services.

SECTION 2. In any part, provision, or section of this resolution is determined by a court or other legal authority with jurisdiction over the subject matter of this resolution to be unenforceable or invalid, the remainder of the entirety of this resolution shall not be affected and shall continue in full force and effect. To this end, the provisions of this resolution are severable.

SECTION 3. Pursuant to Section .560 of the Zoning Ordinance, the Planning Commission must make the four findings listed below in order to grant a variance. Based upon a consideration of the whole record before it including, but not limited to, the staff report, public testimony received at the public hearing on this matter, and evidence made part of the public record, the Planning Commission hereby finds as follows:

1. That there are special circumstances applicable to the property including but not limited to size, shape, location, topography or surroundings that deprive such property of privileges enjoyed by other property in the vicinity and under identical zoning classification.

Properties in the vicinity are similarly sized and are developed with two or more residential units. The property in question is slightly undersized to meet the density development standard of the R-2 (Low Density Multiple Family Residential) zone and will otherwise meet or exceed all other development standards.

2. That the granting of the variance will not constitute a special privilege inconsistent with the limitations upon other properties in the vicinity and zone in which the property is situated.

The existing vacant lot is one of the few lots which remain undeveloped in the area. The Variance request is consistent with the existing development on similar properties in the vicinity.

3. That the granting of the variance will be consistent with the provisions of any Specific Plan, or the adopted General Plan.

The proposed Variance will allow the applicant to construct two attached single-family residences on a vacant lot. The proposed Variance is consistent with the General Plan place type of Residential Neighborhood. Furthermore, the proposed project is consistent with the following goal 6G.G6 for Residential Neighborhood place types from the General Plan:

“Ensure that new residential development is well-integrated into adjacent neighborhood street patterns and provided with pedestrian connections”

4. That the granting of the variance will not be materially detrimental or injurious to the surrounding properties nor to the general development pattern of the neighborhood.

The granting of the Variance will not be materially detrimental or injurious to the surrounding properties nor to the general development pattern of the neighborhood in that the property is a vacant lot in a zone which allows for the development of multiple family residential structures.

SECTION 4. Based upon the above findings, the Planning Commission hereby approves Variance (VAR 6759-2017) subject to the following conditions:

City shall promptly notify the applicant of any Action brought and City shall cooperate with applicant in the defense of the Action.

4. This approval shall lapse and become void if construction under a valid building permit has not commenced within two years from the date of this approval (June 13, 2019), in accordance with Pomona Zoning Ordinance section .580.I. The Planning Commission may extend this period for one year upon receipt of an application for a Time Extension request submitted by the applicant at least thirty days before the expiration date of this approval.
