- a. The proposed change will not adversely affect any significant historical, cultural, architectural, or aesthetic features of the concerned property or the historic district in which it is located.

Approving the addition will not adversely affect any significant historical, cultural, architectural, or aesthetic features of the concerned property or the historic district in which it is located because the architectural style of the proposed addition is consistent with the architectural style of the existing residence. New siding will match existing clapboard siding, proposed new windows and doors will match the existing windows and doors. Architectural details of the home, as conditioned, will be consistent in proportion, operation, material, and detailing with those found on the existing residence. Furthermore, the proposed addition is attached to the existing garage built in 1966, detached from the primary structure.

The proposed work is consistent and similar in material, architectural style, and color to the existing residence and therefore will not detract from the adjacent contributing structures in the Lincoln Park Historic District. The project will remain a single story property. The exterior of the home will maintain its exterior horizontal siding; new roof will be of same composition shingle, and windows and doors will be of same proportion and material as the existing home. Architectural details such as rafters and venting will be consistent throughout.

- c. The proposed change is consistent with the architectural style of the building as specified in Section .5809-13 F 5 of the Zoning Ordinance.

The proposed project, as conditioned, is consistent with the architectural style of the main building as specified in Section .5809-13.F.5 of the Zoning Ordinance. The addition includes a new roof which meets the minimum pitch requirement of 3:12 and also consists of new siding complementary to the existing siding. In addition, the windows and doors are conditioned to be compatible in proportion and installed with the same material and detailing as the existing double hung windows and doors. Exposed rafters underneath the eaves of roof and venting are also conditioned to maintain the architectural style of the building.

- d. The scale, massing, proportions, materials, textures, fenestration, decorative features, and details proposed are consistent with the period and/or compatible with adjacent structures.

The style of the proposed addition, as conditioned, will match the existing residence in terms of roof shape, architectural details, material and proportion of windows and doors, and exterior facade. The project is compatible with adjacent structures and will not negatively impact the architectural style of the adjacent structures.

- e. In case of demolition, the applicant must show that demolition of the subject structure(s) will not adversely affect a cultural, architectural, or aesthetic features of the concerned property or the historic district in which it is located.*

There is no demolition of structures associated with the proposed project.
