300. BOARD COMMUNICATIONS

Trustee Ryan reported on the Serving with a Purpose workshop she attended. Trustee Smith also reported on their attendance, mentioning that the trustees can be more active in communicating to the City Council. Trustee Smith added that other libraries represented at the event had very different problems from those faced by the Pomona Library. Other communities have larger budgets and focus on broader issues, such as expansion of space, etc. Trustee Smith also reported that the Learning Expo at the Fairplex was a success, and a great opportunity for organizations to communicate with kids. He also thanked Trustee Buck for her participation and complimented her on her interaction with attendees. Trustee Buck has been visiting schools and inviting students to come to the Library. Trustee Clifford would like more Library outreach materials to promote library activities.

600. New Business

Goals and Objectives for Library Board

Discussion began with the Trustees sharing their thoughts about what the goals for the Library might be, mindful of the role of the board as advocates for the Library, advisors to the staff, and community representatives/liaisons.

Deputy City Manager Gluba suggested the trustees use the SWOT method for discussion, establishing library Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities, and Threats. Mr. Gluba led the discussion which resulted in the following goals:

1. Update library policy and mission statement
2. Establish a one-year plan
3. Create objectives for the goals
4. Increase library hours, including morning hours and later evening hours
5. Solicit corporate participation and contributions
6. Increase community presence
7. Increase external funding
8. Establish library as a cultural center
9. Make City Council more aware of library needs
10. Increase City funding
11. Articulate citizens' desires at the library
12. Establish a structure for tackling the list of goals
13. Budget preparation and coordination with Board
14. Develop common purpose
15. Review all programming currently offered by Library

The trustees directed Staff to include prioritizing these goals on the next agenda.

Ms. Garcia announced that the Friends would be returning a donation check that was given to the Friends on behalf of a fundraiser held earlier this year.
